Darkness Ends Hardest Fight of Season Between Tars and Bugs.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Danville, Va., August 22.—Danville and Norfolk engaged in the prettiest game of the season here this afternoon for eleven innings until darkness finally put an end to the contest, the score standing 0 to 0.

Martin Walsh, the Danville castoff, was in magnificent form, and the only hit that was made on his delivery was Gaston's bunt, which he beat out. Mayberry twiled for the locals, and though hit harder than Walsh, the necessary gam to win the game was never forthcoming. He was given good support, and at critical stages he tightened up.
Chandler, had his anger hadly hook port, and at certical stages he light-ened up.

Chandler had his finger badly brok-en, the bone almost protruding from the skin, on the third strike on Mur-ray, the last man in the seventh in-ning. He was succeeded by Munson.

Improved.

The official route of the Richmond Automobile Club from Richmond to Charlottesville was selected at a meeting of the club last night. The route was selected by the committee appointed for that purpose after all of the roads had been carefully looked over. It was unanimously voted for by the members of the club present. Beginning at Richmond the route will go over the Mountain Road by Solomon's to Gien Allen. It will cross the Ground Squirrel Bridge over the Chickahominy River to Jackson's, in Hanover. From Jackson's it will passitrough Montpeller, Cuckoo, Louisa, Trevillans, Green Spring, Gordonsville, Cismont and Keswick to Charlottesville.

When Bob Pender refuses to umpire a game of baseball because the league won't pay his salary it is time for the league to get busy. It is also time to talk rather largely about the introduction of Richmond to the Montreal franchise. And Pender seems to have a rather hefty kick coming. If there is money in the coffers of the league there is absolutely no excuse for not paying the umpires, and if the league can't pay the salaries of the officials it is time to quit the game and let somebody have the cards that can pay the bets.

The game between newspaper men yesterday was a good deal more like a Dutch pienic than a baseball game. There was an air of informality about the game that was much enjoyed both by spectators and players. Pitcher Hartley, one of Steve Grif-
